

Directors' note concerning Drums at Appletime 2011 Judges Comment Webpage:

Judges Comments:

Judges will be using digital audio recorders to record their comments during performances. We will be posting judges comments as audio files on the Crimson Express website for band director's to review. Each band director will receive a web page address where comments from their performance will be posted. Each web page address will be different so as to protect comments from unauthorized review. We expect that judge's comments will be available for review during the afternoon of the day following the Drums at Appletime event.

Please make sure to email the Competition Coordinator, Nick Williams, at the email address below, so that we can provide you with your web page address for your judges comments. All emails should be received by Thursday, September 15th. Thank you!
